

The Riverview Ballroom Sauk City, Wisconsin

Ask any resident of the Sauk Prairie Area which one building in their Riverfront district can elicit vivid fond memories and emotions and you will most likely hear, "The Riverview Ballroom." This one building was the heart of the community for many years. From weddings, to big band dances, to business functions and celebrations, the Riverview Ballroom was the main community gathering place where community was created. In 2010 the building is empty and waiting to come alive again.
